BUFFALO BILL GOES TO KINGDOM OF "NIRVANA"

(By Associated Press.)
DENVER, Jan. 10.—William F. Cody died at 12:05 o'clock this morning. The colonel fought death as he often opposed it on the plains. "You can't kill an old scout," he would tell his physician. When he knew his life was ebbing he accepted it like a stoic. He had a game of "high five" last night, laughing and joking because he was winning. All the family joined. He was in a state of coma since morning. His wife, daughter and sister were present.

Col. William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill"), hunter, soldier, scout and showman, was for many years known to nearly every man, woman, boy and girl in American through his wild

The state contended that death was due to air bubbles forced into the veins to relieve her condition.

BELMONT BULLION SHIPPED YESTERDAY

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Thomas Costello, who, according to State's Attorney Hoynes, was "the directing genius of the system for exacting tribute from vicious resorts, gambling dens and from policemen who sought promotion," has made a confession in connection with the graft charges which led to the arrest of Chief of Police Healy and several others. Lieutenant Augustus Martin White also has confessed, Hoynes said.

According to Mr. Hoynes, Lieutenant White in his admissions laid most of the blame on Costello, and Costello, according to Mr. Hoynes, said that Chief Healy was the person responsible for the system.

"Healy," said Mr. Hoynes, "has been quoted as saying that he saw Costello two or three times in the last ten years. According to Costello's confession and reports of my detectives, who have shadowed every move of the chief for months, they saw each other several times a week. Costello took the chief's share of the tribute to the latter's home and the chief called frequently at Costello's 'pay-off joint.' They have talked over the telephone every day.

On one of Costello's trips to the chief's home, he was accompanied by 'Mike de Pike' in a taxicab. We have the number of the cab and know the driver."

The chief, during whose administration Mr. Hoynes alleges murder, robbery and graft have been rampant in the city, wrote what is probably his last communication to the city council yesterday. It was a request for an appropriation for $5000 to analyze beer and other drinks taken in saloon raids. Chief Healy's resignation, effective January 11, has been accepted by Mayor Thompson. His successor's name will go to the council Thursday night. Mayor Thompson would not divulge his name, but asserted that he was certain that the aldermen would be pleased with his selection.

The chief's bond, which was set at $100,000, was reduced to $25,000. The defendant asserted his innocence and referred further inquiries to his attorney.

The girl was found wandering about San Francisco. She had been without food or sleep. Frank Henderson, a taxi driver, found her. She was recognized from pictures in the newspapers. WOMEN HECKLING WOODROW WILSON

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Woman suffragists after another futile appeal to President Wilson for his support of the Susan B. Anthony amendment, announced plans for retaliation by picketing the White House grounds "with silent sentinels."

Their purpose is to make it impossible for the president to enter or leave the White House without encountering a sentinel bearing some device pleading for the suffrage cause.

The move was acknowledged to be a step in the new policy of mild militancy which began with the coup in the house gallery on December 6, when suffragists unfurled a "voices for women" banner while the president was making his opening address.

After the women had their audience they returned to headquarters of the Congressional union and pledged $3000 for the "silent campaign."

ENEMIES MUST SUE FOR PEACE

(By Associated Press.)
AMSTERDAM, Jan. 10.—The correspondent at Munich, at the Dusseldorf General Anzeiger, a copy of which has been received here, quotes the following address delivered by the king of Bavaria on the occasion of a garrison parade in honor of his birthday, January 7:

"Although we are victorious, the German emperor, in agreement with his allies, offered to conclude a peace. The offer was rejected.

"We know what we have to do; we must continue the fight until our enemies are obliged to ask us for peace, which must be honorable, lasting and worth gigantic sacrifices. It was not we who started the terrible war. We have shown our enemies what it means when the German empire and its allies are attacked."
